Recruitment Consultant - FMCG/Food market

Market leading salary and benefits package
Flexible base across the UK

Atkinson Page is the leading name in food and drink industry recruitment, specialising in providing high calibre candidates across a full range of professional job disciplines.

The role

To support our continued growth, we currently have an exciting opportunity for an experienced Recruitment Consultant to join established recruitment team to focus on candidate attraction management, client management and lead generation within the Food / FMCG market.

Working alongside an experienced team of recruitment experts, your primary responsibility is to provide a vital link between clients and candidates, generating suitable vacancies through the sales process and identifying and resourcing qualified candidates who match the needs of external clients.

Profile

With previous experience gained within permanent FMCG recruitment, you must be proactive and have the ability to work quickly and accurately to ensure success in this role. You'll be an excellent communicator with an abundance of enthusiasm and personality as well as being results driven and prepared to pull out all the stops to achieve your career aims. A creative flair is extremely advantageous while a determination to succeed; high levels of confidence and resilience are a must.

In return

We offer an excellent remuneration package which includes an uncapped commission structure and a market leading corporate benefits package.

Our investment in internal and external training programmes is second to none, supporting employees who excel, ensuring they are equipped with the skills to progress further in their career.
